

ABSTRACT

Selli Susan; The description of ODHA's Psychological Well-Being (People who suffered by HIV/AIDS), (Denrich Suryadi, M. Psi.; Mardiana, Psi.); Psychology Undergraduate Program, Tarumanagara University. (117, L-16)

Focus of this research is about the description psychological well-being at ODHA. Many ODHA faced problem to accept that they have infected by HIV. Basically ODHA faced very complex problems themselves. When they have to accept the fact that they are HIV positively. One of biggest problem is stigma and discrimination which they excepted from society. ODHA need rewards to keep going their life to that related psychological well-being. This research used qualitative research. The research started from October 2007 until April 2008. There are four subjects that shown different problems and characteristics. The result shown that all of subjects were not having all of six dimension of psychological well-being yet.

Keywords: HIV/AIDS, Psychological Well-Being.