

ABSTRACT

Diah Ratna Utami

The Relationship between friendship quality and psychological well-being at aging women who lived in nursing home (Mardiana, Psi., and Lianawati, Psi.), Bachelor Program in Psychology, Tarumanagara University (79+P1-5)

The purpose of this research is to find out the relationship between friendship quality and psychological well-being at aging women who lived in nursing home.

This research uses 113 people of the population. The data is taken using questionnaire and processed with SPSS program for windows ver. 13. The processing technique used Spearman`s rho. The result of this research shows that there is a relationship between friendship quality and psychological well-being ($r_{xy} = 0,665$ with $p < 0,01$) and their dimensions.