

ABSTRACT

ERA TRINASARI UTOMO (705030129)

Comparison between addictive behavior to MMORPG based on extrovert-introvert personality type of college student (Sandi Kartasasmita, M. Psi); Bachelor Degree of Psychology, Faculty of Psychology, Tarumanagara University (54 pages, P1-P3, L1-L28).

Addictive behavior of MMORPG (massively multiplayer online role-playing game) is uncontrolled behavior to fulfill a strong passion or desire to playing MMORPG. In this case personality type giving strong influence to someone with a tendency to addictive behavior. Objective of this research is to prove that personality type of extrovert-introvert able to influence appearance of addictive behavior MMORPG to student and to find out what kind of personality type easier become addictive to MMORPG. Instrument of this research is questionnaire given to 104 players of MMORPG at college students segment. All of collected data has been processed with t-test method with SPSS 12.0 software. The result of research indicated there haven't difference between addictive behavior of MMORPG at college students with extrovert personality and college student with introvert personality.

Keywords: Personality Type (Ekstrovert-Introvert), Addictive Behavior MMORPG,
Online game