

ABSTRACT

Go Merisa Anggrani (705030159)

The Differences Strategy to Manage Conflict Based on Gender Role Classification of Late Adolescent. (M. Nisfianoor, M.Si., Psi.). Undergraduate Degree Program in Psychology Tarumanagara University. (74 pages, R1-R3).

The aim of this research is to observe the differences strategy to manage conflict based on gender role classification of late adolescent. The data administration in this research is done by using non-experimental quantitative method. The data administration result sourced from questionnaire and processed by SPSS 13.0 for Windows program. The total number of the subject in this research are 207 subjects. The subjects of this research were late adolescent whose age ranged from 18 to 21 years old. From this research, it shows a Contingency Coefficient = 0.403 and $p = 0.000 < 0.05$, it means the result of this research have the differences strategy to manage conflict based on gender role classification of late adolescent.

KeyWords: Strategy to Manage Conflict, Gender Role Classification, Late Adolescent.