

ABSTRAK

DEASY HERBY TJAHAAYA

Development measurement parent support for marriage their son or daughter. (P. Tommy Yudha Sumatera Suyasa, M.Si., Psi.); Psychology Faculty, Bachelor Degree, Tarumanagara University. (80 pages, P1-P5, L1-L47)

The social support according to Matteo (2003) was the support or help that was given to someone or the individual that was given from the friend, the family, the neighbour, the workmate and that was other. Parents's support essentially was the social support. The research aimed at knowing any support that would in gave by the parents and as big this support was given at the time of the child prepare his marriage. This research used the subject of the parents, and totaling responden is 358 people. Results of the research showed that the implement measured this could knowing the support that was given by the parents. Nearby that this test implement had the level reliabilitas that was high enough. Therefore this test implement was the test implement that valis and reliabel

Key word: parents support, marriage, measurement.