

ABSTRACT

LIVIANA

Young Adult Female Forgiveness Who Had a Cheating Father; (Miniwaty Halim, M.Psi; Dra. Ninawati, MM); Psychology degree programs, Tarumanagara University. (138 pages; R1-R4;Appdx 1-13).

The objective of this research is to know the forgiveness picture of mature women who had a cheating father. This research focus on five people on female gender and age 21 years to 24 years who had a father having an affair. Result of the study, five subjects had a desire to forgive their father. However, from the five subjects, there have four subjects had forgiven their father. This is because, they have a strong commitment to forgive their father. From the four subjects who forgive, two subjects forgive the father in total without a sense of disappointment and the other two subjects had forgive their father, but still have a disappointed felling toward their father because of the affair. Whereas, one subject did not forgive her father because, her father is still does affair with many women until now. Although previously the subject ever forgive his father, repeatable behaviour her father about affair case, make the subject of hatred to her father arises again.

Key words: Forgiveness, Young adult female, Father who had an affair.