OUR GARAGE REPAINT WORKSHOP PROFILE VIDEO

DESIGN AS A PROMOTION MEDIA

The choice of attractive colors on the motorbike can be the center of attention and increase confidence when driving. Motorcyclists who want to change the color of their vehicle will be willing to spend money for maximum results and according to expectations. So, you have to be smart in choosing the right repaint service so you don't lose and regret. Now present in the community, namely Our Garage Repaint Workshop as a trusted repainting service in realizing the desire of motorcyclists to look attractive on the road. This study aims to design a video profile of the Our Garage Repaint Workshop as a promotional media. The design process uses the Design Thinking stage according to Plattner. The research subjects are people aged 16 years over who use and enjoy the world of motorcycles.

The method of data analysis is by observation, interviews, questionnaires, library data, and the internet. The Our Garage Repaint Workshop video profile uses the Cinematic Short Movie concept with an emotional, not rigid, and factual plot. Contains the workmanship, repaint results, services, and drama at the beginning and end. The video profile must display information that is in accordance with the facts on the ground with an interesting concept so that the target audience can give a good response and increase the selling value of Our Garage Repaint Workshop services. The concept and style of audio visual is designed according to the views of the general public so that the video profile designed is subjective and objective.
