

ABSTRACT

Chrisilya Thoeng (705070067)

Association Forgiveness Dimensions and Marital Conflict Tactics among Early Adulthood (Yohanes Budiarto, S.Pd., M.Si.). Undergraduate Program in Psychology Tarumanagara University. (80 Pages, R1-R4, Appdx 1-49).

Straus (2007) proposed a marital conflict tactics scale to identify tactics used by couples when they are in marital conflict. There are five marital tactics commonly used by spouses in order to minimize conflict in marriage. Use of this tactics has association with dimensions of forgiveness. This study attempts to identify association forgiveness dimensions and marital conflict tactics among early adulthood. The main data analysis using Chi-Square and obtain significance value of 0.000. This means there is a association forgiveness dimensions and marital conflict tactics among early adulthood. Where the forgiveness dimensions consists of two (positive and negative), as well as conflict tactics-self and conflict tactics-partner.

Keywords: forgiveness dimensions, conflict tactics, marriage, early adulthood