

ABSTRACT

Yosefa Elizabeth Sesilia (705080035)

Description of Marriage Conflict and Couple Resilience in Catholic Couple (Study Descriptive on Married Couple in Jakarta and Tangerang); Denrich Suryadi, M.Psi. S-1 study program of Psychology, University Tarumanagara, (i-ix; 63 pages, R1-R2, Appdx 1-76)

Marriage conflict of the Catholic couple are diverse, with six sources of conflict, that is child, economic, family background, sexual, communications, and religious. The diversity sources of conflict which appearing on Catholic couple, then this research aims to know the description of the conflict on the couples who married in a Catholic and to know the dimensions of couple resilience who were most responsible for conflict resolution. Characteristics of the subjects in this research is young adult couples who married in a Catholic and is domiciled in Jakarta and Tangerang. Subjects obtained in this study as many as 104 couples.

In this research using quantitative methods with a non-experimental survey techniques. Processing the data in this study using descriptive techniques. Research that has been processed have produced various kinds of conflicts that are owned by the Catholic couple, with the highest dimension of the conflict on the communication dimensions and the dominant dimension of the couple resilience is the dimension of the child.

Keywords: Conflicts of marriage and couple resilience.